

Grizzly bears

Habitat

- This is where grizzly bears live in North America.

Appearance

- Grizzly bears have humps on their shoulders.
- Grizzly bears eat almost anything
- Grizzly bears are omnivores.

Appearance

- Grizzly bears have small ears and sharp claws.
- They are sometimes trained.
- They have powerful legs to run fast.

Habitat

- Grizzly bears live in forests.
- They also live by river valleys and oceans.
- Grizzly bears spend their time in meadows.

Habitat

- Grizzly bears use dead leaves to make the floor of their den.
- Their territory is 1500 sq , km.
- Grizzly bears make a hole in the ground for their den.

Diet

Grizzly bears are omnivores.

They eat fish and salmon.

Grizzly bears will eat anything.

Predators

- Grizzly bears predators are wolves.
- Grizzly bears have to protect their cubs from wolves.
- They will fight with each other .

Predators

- Male grizzly bears are sometimes enemies.
- They will sometimes fight.

Offspring

- Grizzly bears are the size of a rat when they are born.
- Cubs are very good swimmers.

Offspring

- Grizzly bears have up to 1 or 4 babies.
- Females are called sows.
- Males are called boars.

WWW.FOTOBANK.COM MP00-8752 Minden Pictures
ALASKAN BROWN BEAR (Ursus arctos) MOTHER STANDING WITH THREE CUBS, ALASKA

Adaptation

Grizzly bears have sharp claws.

They have powerful legs to run fast.

They also have 42 teeth.

Adaptation

- Grizzly bears have sharp claws and flat teeth to grind things.
- They have 2 kinds of teeth.

Good bye

- And that is what I wanted to tell you about Grizzly bears.
- By Shaelynn